CARMD® HANDHELD TESTER & SOFTWARE KIT EARNS 2010 EDITOR'S CHOICE AWARD FROM THE MAC OBSERVER

SAN FRANCISCO – Fountain Valley, Calif.- based CarMD.com Corp. is pleased to announce its CarMD® Handheld Tester & Mac/PC Software Kit was selected for The Mac Observer Editors' Choice Awards 2010. The award, which represents the editors' selection for the best of what was shown at the conference and expo this year, was presented during this week's Macworld Expo in San Francisco.

"From product development to marketing, our team has dedicated itself to offering a product that Mac users can use and truly appreciate in their everyday lives," said Richard Amador, CarMD's director of marketing. "We are so pleased that our first ever Apple® Mac product has been recognized by The Mac Observer editorial staff for this honor, and truly embraced by the entire Mac community."

The CarMD® Handheld Tester & Mac/PC Software Kit is one of only eight recipients of The Mac Observer's Editors' Choice Awards for 2010. CarMD works on all 1996 and newer OBD2 cars, light trucks, SUVs and minivans manufactured for use in the U.S. – foreign and domestic. In seconds, the easy-to-use CarMD device can be used by the average driver to check for hidden problems, determine if the vehicle is ready to pass its emissions test, inspect a used car, solve "check engine" light issues and more. When a problem is found, CarMD customers gain free access to an unprecedented diagnostic database using the included software, their Mac computer and own Internet connection, to generate a report with probable cause, estimated repair costs, vehicle recalls and more.
